

Le Réseau Liberté-Québec

Quebec's Freedom Network

Mission statement

Quebec's Freedom Network (Réseau Liberté-Québec) is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to network all Quebecers who embrace individual liberty and responsibility.

Launched in the fall of 2010, the RLQ is NOT a new political party and never will be. Our belief: time has come to put aside old constitutional debates and concentrate ourselves on reforming the Quebec model.

To achieve this goal, a first event organized in Quebec City on October 23, 2010 gathered 460 right-of-centre reformists coming from all horizons: citizens, academicians, columnists, thinktanks, and right-of-centre politicians. Our second event is in Montreal on April 16th!

The values we share:

- Individual liberty and personal responsibility
- A smaller state, competitive and free markets, freedom of choice
- Our democratic traditions and values (separation of church and state, freedom of the press, equality between men and women)

Some of our goals:

- Reduce the size of government
- Restore intergenerational equity and justice
- Stop Quebec from going further into debt.

If you are tired of the old constitution debate, deplore the media's leftist bias, are tired of the shameful waste of public money, are concerned by the power held by unions, heavily subsidized companies, bureaucrats and technocrats, join the RLQ and let your voice be heard!
